

Australian
Facilitation
Company

Doug Watson

Australian Facilitation Company Senior Consultant

The skill that sets Doug apart from other training professionals is his ability to use his 30+ years of vocational experience to bring concepts to life. It's the stories teamed with practical examples and problem solving discussions that help participants develop a level of understanding to support real, positive workplace changes.

Doug has worked in a broad range of industries from front line positions to executive roles accountable for; Marketing, Finance and Operations.

As a facilitator, Doug delivers training in an engaging manner - ensuring participants get the most of out of the learning experience. In workshops the focus is on delivering a change in behaviours, skills and knowledge that can be applied back in the workplace.

He has the ability to explain complex, new and different concepts in a way that both makes sense and also challenges accepted paradigms

Relevant Tools:

Level 1 Executive Coach

Genos emotional intelligence practitioner

Zodiak Master Facilitator

Qualifications:

Certificate IV in Training and Assessment

Advanced Diploma of Management

Master of Business Administration (majoring in Finance and Accounting)

Bachelor of business (1st Class honours)

Memberships:

Fellow of Australian Institute of Management WA

Member of Institute of Learning Professionals

Specialty areas include:

- Using financial information to make better decisions
- Supporting emerging leaders to fast track the development of their people skills
- Improving the effectiveness of contract management practices
- Translating organisational strategies to business unit priorities
- Developing practical negotiation skills for use both internally and externally
- Coaching other coaches
- Enhancing communication and presentation skills to align the understanding of listener and speaker.

Client Testimonial – Bank of Queensland

Without your contribution to our Fitter4Biz programme for franchisees the results would not have been as stellar as they were. Your facilitation, coaching and respectful challenging of both regional managers and franchisees was a highlight for all participants across Australia over the last nine months. You will be heartened to know that at the Bank's annual awards night, Fitter4Biz participants won every major category they were eligible for during the year.

Glen Goldspink | Senior Manager, Customer Experience Execution